Vegetables For The Pantry

After many months of planning and hard work, the Bethlehem Presbyterian Church created a garden to benefit the Flemington Food Pantry. The church has already donated more than $3,500 in fresh organic vegetables. Head gardener Chip Paillex of Pittstown reports that "the corn seems to be the big hit!" Dozen of ears of corn, hundreds of tomatoes, zucchini, potatoes and carrots have been greatly appreciated by the residents of Hunterdon County who rely on the Food Pantry for a little extra nutrition, says Paillex. Above from left are several youth members of the Bethlehem Presbyterian Church who helped pick the vegetables: Bryan Etter, 5, Marissa Gallaway, 12, both of Alexandria Township, and Kyra Paillex, 6, a resident of Pittstown.
