

America's Grow-a-Row and Peaceful Valley Orchards in Union Township recently hosted 60 youths from Paterson, who came out to experience life on the farm as well as pick free fruits and vegetables to bring back home for their families. Many New Jersey inner-city youth don't have access to fresh healthy food. Grow-a-Row and its volunteers are proud of the hundreds of thousands of pounds of produce it delivers to those in need each year. As can be seen by the smile of the little girl from Paterson holding the hand of Kyra Paillex, Grow-a-Row volunteer, it's not always about all the huge volume of produce.
